Morgan's Statue Unveiled.

The magnificent bronze equestrian statue of Gen. John Hunt Morgan was unveiled at Lexington Wednesday afternoon with appropriate exercises. The unveiling was attended by thousands who witnessed the impressive ceremonies, including a large number who wore the gray and rode under the interpid leader.

Though now only a withered handful of the proud and warlike host which was once the terror of its foes, and the pride of Kentucky, never even in their days of conquest did the old soldiers who served under Gen. John H. Morgan in the army of the Confederacy receive such an ovation of such honors as on Wednesday.

Led by Gen. Basil W. Duke, as they had been many a time in going to battle, and with Gen. John B. Castleman, another of the idolized commanders, riding by his side, the veterans of Morgan's command, joined by their former foes of the Lexington G. A. R., marched through the streets of Lexington between the solid lines of twenty thousand cheering people, with the stars and bars borne above them, and fluttering in decorations from every side. They were followed by a procession of civil officers, distinguished citizens, beautiful women and bright faced children, who were proud to take part in doing honor to them and their dead commander.

The parade, which was one of the features of the unveiling, was the largest seen in Lexington in half a century. In the lines and one portion of the parade which attracted considerable attention were the Hamilton Guards, the juvenile organization of the local chapter of the Daughters of the Confederacy.

The children, in charge of Mrs. Jos. Ewalt, an active member of the local chapter, following the conveyance used by the sponsors of the occasion, presented a beautiful appearance. All were dressed in white with streamers of white satin ribbon, across which was printed "Hamilton Guards," in red.

Mrs. Laura Williams, for who the organization was named, and her daughter, Mrs. Ida Hamilton Stoner, were among the interested spectators. The only two survivors of the Hamilton Guards, who served in the Confederate army, Mr. James McDonald, of Kansas City, Mo., and Mr. John C. Bedford, of this county, were present.

Among those from here who attended the unveiling were: Mrs. Jos. Ewalt, Mrs. E. M. Dickson, Mrs. J. T. Varsant, Mrs. W. G. Talbott, Mrs. Russell Mann, Mrs. Letitia Hedges, Mrs. Laura Perry, Mrs. A. B. Davis, Mrs. John Connell, Mr. and Mrs. Durand Whipple, Mrs. Swift Champ, Mrs. C. M. Thomas, Mrs. R. B. Hutchcraft, Miss Kate Edgar, Mrs. Georgia Keller and Miss Belle Mitchell.

Bourbon Boy Wins Loving Cup.

On behalf of the American Saddle Horse Breeders' Association, of which Gen. John B. Castleman, of Louisville, is president, President Henry S. Barker, of State University at Lexington Tuesday morning presented a handsome silver loving cup valued at $125, to William Collins, of North Middletown, this county, senior in the College of Agriculture of the university, as a token of appreciation by the association or the fine work done by Mr. Collins in judging saddle horses at the State Fair this fall. Mr. Collins was a member of a stock judging team from the Department of Animal Husbandry of the College of Agriculture, which took part in stock judging at the State Fair, and he won first place on the team, making him eligible to be awarded the loving cup for 1911.

The cup must be won two years in succession by the same member of the team in order that it may be kept by him, otherwise it will be given each year to the student of the College of Agriculture who makes the highest mark in judging.

Mr. Collins was complimented on his efficiency in judging the saddle horse. He is a son of Mr. John Collins, the prominent horseman and farmer of North Middletown.

Wills have often proved a stumbling block to the novelist. One flagrant case may be mentioned. A popular writer causes an old aristocrat to have his "last will and testament" witnessed by his butler and his housekeeper, yet he makes them both benefit under it. By so doing he rendered the will invalid. But the author did not know it.

Welcome to Oscar Underwood.

The presence of Oscar Underwood has given a fresh impetus to the Democratic Campaign. As Chairman of the Committee on Ways and Means, and as a leader in the great fight for tariff reform, he has been received by his fellow Democrats in a manner befitting his station and ability. Mr. Underwood has not come to this State to interfere in our home affairs, or to tell us how to conduct our government, or what policies are the wisest to pursue. He very properly leaves these vexed questions to the candidates, who, if elected, will be able to carry out the reforms promised by their platforms.

No man in this country is better capacitated to bring home to the people the facts that lie at the base of the great contest which was waged at the last Congress, and which will continue to be waged for the enfranchisement of the people from the slavery of a protective tariff. He is not only a great party leader but he is more than that, a great patriot, who has boldly stood for what he believes is right.

It is proper that Mr. Underwood should come to Kentucky at this time to consult with his fellow-Democrats and to urge upon them the importance of this year's contest, and its influence upon the Presidential Campaign of next year, when the Democracy will have its first real opportunity in many years to win a national victory. Born in Kentucky and educated here he has been made to understand that he is one of us; that his visits is a sort of homecoming that recalls old memories and old friendships; that his advice in this crisis is needed; and that his masterful discussion of national policies has not only added to the people's store of knowledge, but has given them a better appreciation of the difficulties out of which such leaders as himself and Champ Clark have led us.

Mr. Underwood's speeches have done a world of good. He has earned the gratitude of every Democrat in Kentucky. No man has a brighter future than he, and it may soon come to pass that his promotion will measure up to his deserts, which are of the highest.

To Manufacture Natural Leaf.

Charles E. Dexter and F. M. Spiller, of Owensboro, have arranged for headquarters in Louisville last week for the Kentucky Farmers Tobacco Company, of Hickman. The company is incorporated with a capital stock of $250,000, divided into shares of $10 each. There has been subscribed by residents of Hickman and West Tennessee a total of $108,000, and much stock has been taken locally by persons familiar with the products of the company. The company was incorporated in July and despite the fact that its factory at Hickman has not been completed it has orders on hand which will keep it busy far into the winter.

The plants of the company will be located in the various tobacco-growing sections, from which the company will secure its material. The company will produce eight different grades of Burley and dark tobacco at the beginning and later will add other grades of burley for both smoking and chewing.

The tobacco will be presented to the public in the same state as when it was taken from the field. There will be no flavoring, coloring or other adulterating substances used. There will be no machinery in the plant beyond that used in handling hogheads of tobacco and such other labor-saving devices.

Graziani Sues for Damages.

In the Kenton Circuit Court Tuesday suit was instituted by Attorney B. F. Graziani against James C. Ernst, the South Covington and Cincinnati street railway company; Cincinnati, Newport and Covington railway company, Cincinnati, Newport and Covington Light and Traction company; L. F. Brown, Edward Fitzgerald, Polk Lafoon, Richard Salters and the Columbia Gas and Electric Company, through Attorneys A. E. Stricklett, Horace Root, J. L. Elliston and G. F. Boughner, asking $250,000 damages. The suit grows out of the recent trial of Attorney Graziani on the charge of subornation of perjury of which he was acquitted. Mr. Graziani is a brother of Mr. J. I. Graziani, of this city.

O'Rear's Family Rides on Railroad Passes.

Proof of Judge O'Rear's inconsistency and insincerity is being furnished in heaping measure as the campaign proceeds. It is easy to take up every position he has assumed and show by the record that his private views and acts are at variance with his public protestations.

The very latest evidence against him on this score is in the matter of free passes, and has been produced by the Lexington Herald. In a speech accepting the Republican nomination, he referred to the Constitutional provision against the use of free passes by public officials, and he pledged himself, if elected Governor, to see that a law was placed upon the Statute book enforcing that section. Since his nomination, he has frequently condemned the railroads for issuing such passes, and public men for accepting them, and has pointed to it as fruitful source of corruption.

On the very day that Judge O'Rear arose in the State Convention and condemned the use of free passes, his family rode from Frankfort to Louisville on passes issued by a railroad, and it is fair to presume that they could not, and would not have accepted these favors from the railroad without the knowledge and consent of Judge O'Rear.

It is just as culpable for the family of the Judge of the Court of Appeals to ride on free passes as it would be for that official himself to receive such favors, and it violates the spirit if not the letter of the Constitution when he permits them to put him in that embarrassing position.

This charge was openly made by the Lexington Herald, and it has been substantiated by others. So far Judge O'Rear has not made any explanation of how it happened that he could be so bitterly opposed to the railroads giving free passes to public officials when his own family profits by the practice.

In his speech at Bowling Green on Monday, Judge O'Rear condemned the railroads, because, as he charged, they have for many years secured control of the Legislative Committee. If this is true, it is most reprehensible, and calls for the severest condemnation; but so long as Judge O'Rear's family continues to be the guest of the railroads in their journeyings about the State, this criticism will be received with suspicion and with doubts to his consistency and sincerity.

Paris People Can Tell You Why It Is So.

Doan's Kidney Pills cure the cause of disease, and that is why the cures are lasting. This remedy strengthens and tones up the kidneys helping them to drive out of the body the liquid poisons that cause backache and distressing kidney and urinary complaints. Paris people testify to permanent cures.

Mrs. J. W. Huffman, 115 N. Main street, Paris, Ky., says: "I gladly corroborate the public statement I gave in 1905 in which I made the fact known that I had used Doan's Kidney Pills with satisfactory results. I had sharp pains across my back and kidneys and at times was so miserable that I could hardly attend to my work. Headaches and dizzy spells were also common. Doan's Kidney Pills removed all these symptoms of disordered kidneys and I have never had any return attack."

What Ails You?

Do you feel weak, tired, despondent, have frequent headaches, coated tongue, bitter or bad taste in morning, "heart-burn," belching of gas, acid risings in throat after eating, stomach gnaw or burn, foul breath, dizziness, spells, poor or variable appetite, nausea at times and kindred symptoms?

If you have any considerable number of the above symptoms you are suffering from biliousness, torpid liver with indigestion, or dyspepsia. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is made up of the most valuable medicinal principles known to medical science for the permanent cure of such abnormal conditions. It is a most efficient liver invigorator, stomach tonic, bowel regulator and nerve strengthener.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" is not a patent medicine or secret nostrum, a full list of its ingredients being printed on its bottle-wrapper and attested under oath. W. C. HESTER

A DISGRUNTLED DETECTIVE

By TOM BROWNELL

Copyright by American Press Association, 1911.

Being ambitious after reading sundry detective stories to enter the profession, I went to an office and asked for employment. It happened that a man was wanted to go among a gang of footpads and burglars disguised as one of their kind with a view to learning certain facts concerning them. It was so dangerous a job that no regular detective would undertake it. These men know their own sort and would easily recognize a spy. I, being filled with the romance of detective work without having had any experience, tumbled to an offer of the job at once.

About 11 o'clock at night, disguised as a tough, I reeled into a saloon where my men were supposed to be. I found them there and invited them to drink. I treated several times and thought I was getting in with them when suddenly there was a hammering at the door, and the barkeeper cried: "Police! Git!" The lights went out, and we were all left in the dark, scattering like so many rats. The doors were broken down, and the police rushed in. When the lights were turned on it was found that the barkeeper and I were the only captives. How the rest got away I don't know.

I was taken to a station, and on the way I made myself known to the cop who walked beside me. He gave a broad grin and said that was the most beautiful device of all that was practiced in the criminal profession. I told him he would learn more about that in time. I slept in a filthy cell for the rest of the night and the next day sent word to the detective agency that I would like to have them come and get me out. They sent one of the employees, who had never seen me. Of course the police officers were not going to discharge me on any such evidence, or, rather, want of it, and I told the man to go back and tell the one who had hired me to come and vouch for me.

He didn't come till late in the afternoon, and when he did he didn't recognize me. I told him I was the man he had sent to the saloon for information, but he looked at me contemptuously and said that the man he had sent had likely met with foul play and I was trying to get out of a bad scrape by personating him. He hadn't seen me made up, and my disguise was so perfect that he believed me to be a veritable villain. He went away without being convinced as to my identity, and I was obliged to spend another night in a cell.

A week passed, and I was still a prisoner. Then one day I was indicted as one of the men in the saloon when the police made the raid, who had made away with the detective that the agency had sent out. In other words, I was charged with being my own murderer. Upon inquiry I learned that the man who had thus been sent out on a mission had disappeared, and it was supposed he had been dispatched by the gang.

Here was a pretty how-de-do. I called again for the man who had sent me out, but he refused to come to see me, and I couldn't go to see him. I doubted if it would do any good if he came. He had never seen me but once, and then but for a moment. How could he be expected to recognize me in my rough garb, especially as in the saloon scuffle I had been very badly mauled?

I sent for a lawyer and told him my story. He appeared to believe me, but said there would be no use in putting such a story before a jury. It was so palpably false that it would prejudice my case. He said he would try to get up a defense that would seem more probable. I asked him if there was anything more probable than that a man could not have murdered himself and be alive. He replied that I would have to prove my identity, which was impossible. He would try to think of some method of defense that would be easier to prove than the truth. "We lawyers don't care anything," he said, "for the truth. What we want is something we can prove. An alibi affords the best chance."

When I came to be tried for being implicated in my own murder there was no proof against me except that I was known to have gone to the saloon from which I had disappeared and was one of the gang of rascals which was raided. This was considered prima facie evidence that I, probably with others, had killed myself. It was evident that I would get a long term on general principles.

My lawyer's method was very ingenious. Having entered my claim to be another person than myself, John Borland, he brought John Borland's mother into court to swear that her son on the night of the supposed murder was at home and in bed. Another witness, who lived in the same house, swore to the same thing. Then my lawyer called upon the policeman who had arrested me to swear that I had been found in and taken from the saloon. The lawyer so badgered the policeman that he was not sure of me. Thus an alibi was established.

I was acquitted. But I didn't continue the detective business. I had had all of that romantic occupation I wanted. Detectives are all right in novels and in plays, but when it comes to the real thing they don't lead a easy life. Joe Petrosino, for instance, was one of the cleverest and most daring, but they got him.

Accused of Grand Larceny.

Bud Holt, white, was arrested Tuesday afternoon on a grand larceny charge, upon complaint of John D. Healy and lodged in jail. Holt had been employed with a construction gang double tracking the Louisville & Nashville railroad and a few days previous had been discharged. Holt left the camp and the day following Healy missed a leather suit case which contained besides his clothing a razor, a pistol and a gold watch chain valued at about $50. Tuesday afternoon when Healy was walking down Main street he met Holt and together they walked some distance. Healy recognized a shirt which Holt was wearing as being a part of the contents of the suit case. He seized Holt and put him under arrest. A lively scuffle ensued in which both men rolled into the street. Holt underneath, and his face, hands and clothing were covered with mud. Healy held on to his man until the arrival of Squire L. J. Fretwell, who placed him under arrest and turned him over to Patrolman Chas. Thomas, who landed him in jail.

FREE FOR STOMACH AND BOWELS

We are in receipt of letters from Mrs. Eva Gaskins, 304 Madison St., Topeka, Kan., and Mr. P. H. Gavelas, Wagoner, Okla., as well as many others, telling about the wonderful results they have secured in the cure of their stomach and liver troubles by the use of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

This remedy, as all readers doubtless know, has been before the public for a generation and is now being more extensively used than any other remedy for stomach, liver and bowel complaints. According to reliable testimony, it seems to be a very quick and lasting cure for constipation, indigestion and dyspepsia, liver trouble, biliousness, headaches, sour stomach, gas on the stomach, drowsiness after eating and similar disorders. It is a liquid with tonic effect, and so mild and gentle in action that a child as well as a grown person can take it, without it has no equal for children, women and old people.

It arouses the flow of gastric juice, and by a peculiar action trains the stomach and bowel muscles to again do their work naturally, and in time medicines of all kinds can be dispensed with. A free sample bottle can be had for trial by sending your address to the doctor, for in this way Mrs. Gaskins, Mr. Gavelas and many others first learned of the cure. Later, when satisfied it is the remedy you need, do as others are doing and buy it of your druggist at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle.

For the free sample address Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 402 Caldwell building, Monticello, Ill.

DAVE JANUARY.

The Minister's Son

They say that the minister's boy is wild and wicked and bad, that he is shiftless, lazy and thriftless, short on ambition, long on straw rides, pool and poker, shy on useful work, churlish, boorish, a ninny and a nance.

Compared with other boys, we are told by those who pretend to know, he is everything that they are not and nothing that they are. The one builds and enriches the world by his industry they say and the other, contributing nothing in helpful effort to the civilization of which he is a part, lives by the brawn and brain of his brother. One wins the big prizes of life and the other, inert, inapt, muscled-bound and indifferent, though alike in origin and destiny to the other boy, is a straggler in the procession, just so much flotsam on the sea of progress. If it were true—but it isn't—this would be a severe indictment of that vast army of hard working, honest, sincere, whole souled and whole hearted men, who for a comparatively small pittance, work night and day to keep us on the straight pass and out of fail, and to whom we have recourse as a faithful friend, when we want the place that little gold circlet on the finger of the girl we love, or need some one to christen the baby, bring cheer and comfort to the sick and send the dead properly accredited to Peter at the pearly gate.

When the fellow with a grievance against the minister's boy hies along with his bile, remind him that Samuel Finley Breese Morse, the inventor of the telegraph, which broke down the feudal walls of the old world and made the universe akin by bringing the most isolated and remote corner of the habitable globe into instant touch with the centers of civilization, was a minister's son and the grandson of Jonathan Edwards, one of the greatest preachers that ever lived. Tell him that Grover Cleveland and Chester Alan Arthur, two of the twenty-seven presidents of the United States, were minister's sons and regarded as an asset and a help rather than a handicap.

And that General Nathaniel Greene, the trusted friend and ally of Washington at the battles of Trenton, Princeton, Germantown and Brandywine, was the God fearing son of a patriotic Quaker dominee and was none the less useful as a citizen because he was valorous as a soldier. Also Joseph Addison, the English author and master word painter; William Cowper, the poet; Charlotte Bronte and John Fletcher, disciples of Parnassus, whose muse and writings set the world a thinking were the children of clergymen. So were the late E. H. Harriman, the genius who standardized the American railroads and Bob Ingersoll, who sored by the hardships endured by his mother, through the fickleness of country congregations in shifting his father from pillar to post in search of a meagre living, became with Voltaire and Paine, one of the world's greatest free thinkers and the principal apostle of the new "show me" philosophy. K. M. Turner, the brilliant contemporary of Thomas A. Edison and Alexander Graham, in electrical research, inventor of the acousticon, the ditograph, the interior telephone and other useful devices that help for present day efficiency, lays it to his father, Parson "Jim" Turner, a quiet, thoughtful Baptist preacher of Indiana, that he is what he is. Another conspicuous son of a Baptist clergyman who credits the helpful influence of his father with being a potential factor in his climb to fame is Charles Evan Hughes, former Governor of New York and now Associate Justice of the United States Supreme Court.

So when the fellow with the grouch on the ministers' boy comes around, and begins to hammer, just remember these things. Pass 'em out to him and it'll wake him up. If he's made of the right stuff he'll feel like a boob for talking the way he does and maybe he'll wish that he too was a minister's boy.

Preserve for Salt Water Fish.

Bermuda will soon have a salt water fishing preserve covering an area of about five square miles. It will be made by constructing a sill of concrete across the single narrow opening which unites Harrington sound with the ocean, and fixing a screen to prevent the exit of fish.

Short Life of Goldfish.

The life of a goldfish is rarely more than five years in captivity under the most favorable circumstances.

Small Qualification.

He who is good at making excuses is seldom good for anything else.—Benjamin Franklin.

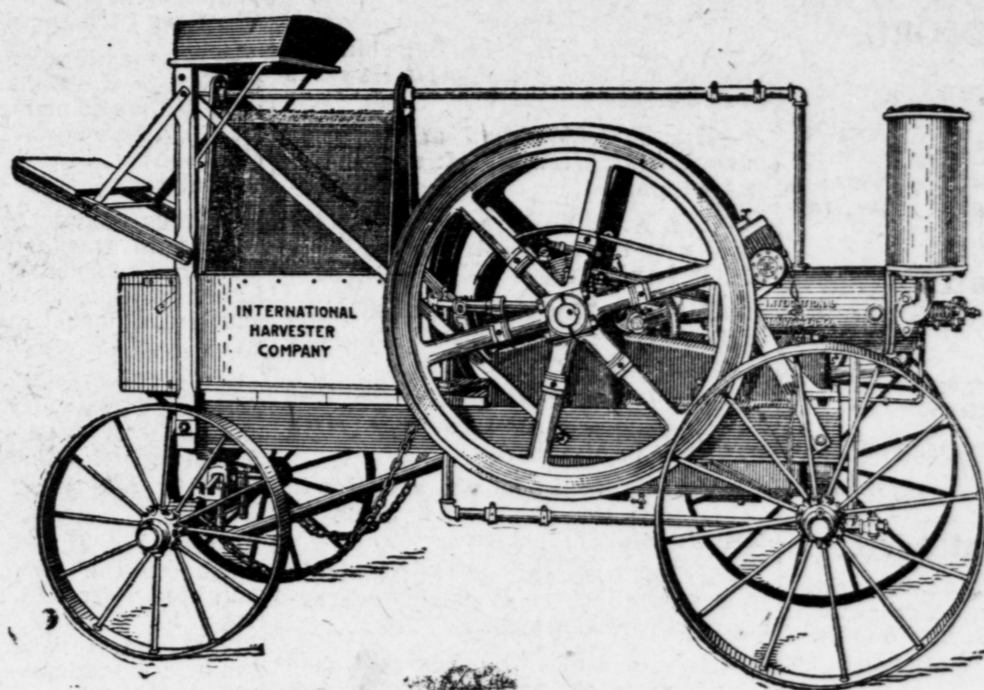

Everything Put Right.

"Father, the duke has proposed, and we want to be married immediately." "All right. Here's a check for your million. Tell the duke to step in and I'll give him a dollar to get the license."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Convention to be Held in Louisville.

So many questions of vital importance to the future of Kentucky are pressing upon the people of the State for discussion and wise solution that it seems important again to call together in conference representative men from all parts of the State to consider present conditions and desired reforms and feasible methods of advancing the prosperity of the State. Such conferences heretofore held have resulted in great good, developing a better understanding of the needs of the State and a closer co-operation among its progressive citizens, and promoting a clearer understanding of what can be done and how best to do it.

In this spirit such a State Conference is called by the two State wide organizations which we represent, to be held in Louisville Tuesday and Wednesday, November 14 and 15. The subjects to be discussed will cover the field of Kentucky's needs. It is desired to have in attendance the live, public spirited men of every county and city.

A LIBERAL OFFER.

We Guarantee to Relieve Dyspepsia. If We Fail the Medicine Costs Nothing.

To unquestionably prove to the people that indigestion and dyspepsia can be permanently relieved and that Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets will bring about this result, we will furnish the medicine absolutely free if it fails to give satisfaction to anyone using it. The remarkable success of Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets is due to the high degree of scientific skill used in devising their formula as well as to the care exercised in their manufacture whereby the well known properties of Bismuth-Subnitrate and Pepsin have been combined with Carminatives and other agents.

Bismuth-Subnitrate and Pepsin are constantly employed and recognized by the entire medical profession as invaluable in the treatment of indigestion and dyspepsia. The Pepsin used in Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets is carefully prepared so as to develop its greatest efficiency. Pepsin supplies to the digestive apparatus one of the most important elements of the digestive fluid. Without it the digestion and assimilation of food are impossible.

The Carminatives possess properties which aid in relieving the disturbances and pain caused by undigested food. This combination of these ingredients makes a remedy invaluable for the complete relief of indigestion and dyspepsia.

We are so certain of this that we urge you to try Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets on our own personal guarantee. Three sizes, 25c, 50c, and $1. Remember you can obtain Rexall Remedies only at our store—The Rexall Store, G. S. Varden & Son, Paris, Ky.

STOCK, CROP AND FARM NOTES

—The Claiborne Stock Farm, former home of Ormende 2:08 1-4 and a band of great trotting mares, belonging to J. K. Newman, Tuesday was sold by auction to Clarence Lebus, president of the Burley Tobacco Society. The farm contains 248 acres and the price was $220 per acre. Ed A. Tipton and James B. Haggins were the contending bidders. The farm is at the crossing of the Russell Cave pike by the Iron Works road, five miles Northwest of Lexington.

—Manager Charles H. Berryman, of James B. Haggins' Elmendorf Farm, was advised by wire Tuesday that the car conveying the Elmendorf show herd of shorthorn cattle, valued at $50,000, was wrecked at Terrell, N. C., Monday night and that 13 shorthorns, 5 purse cows and 10 Shropshire sheep were killed. The herd were all of Elmendorf breeding, headed by Elmendorf Marshall and were all prize winners at several State fairs this year. They were enroute home from Richmond, Va., to rest up for the stock show at Chicago in December.

Silly Saying Still Lives.

The saying that fish is the best brain food comes of an old long tongue windbag years ago saying: "Thought is impossible without phosphorus." So a Swiss chemist, knowing that fish contained phosphorus, put two and two together and brought forth a saying that will never die.

and yet sleepless Hiram Seranton, of Clay City, Ill., coughed and coughed. He was in the mountains on the advice of five doctors, who said he had consumption, but found no help in the climate and started home. Hearing of Dr. King's New Discovery, he began to use it. "I believe it saved my life," he writes, "for it made a new man of me so that I can now do good work again." Deafness Cannot be Cured by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, Ohio.

MILLERSBURG ITEMS.

The most impressive as well as the most beautiful wedding witnessed here in a long time was that of Miss Julia Carpenter, of this place, to Mr. Leslie Shroat, of Owingsville, Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the First Christian church. The event has been looked forward to with much interest on account of the prominence of both parties.

Long before the appointed time the spacious auditorium of the Christian church, which has just emerged from under the touch of the artist, began filling with members of representative families throughout Central Kentucky. The audience was largely made up of handsomely dressed ladies. The program practically opened, when the ushers escorted to their places on the rostrum, Mrs. C. M. Best, Misses Ethel K. Nell and Alma Duke Jones. The church was darkened and softly illuminated.

The decorations were made up of potted plants and ferns. A beautiful arch supported by two massive columns formed the background in the center of which was a myriad of candles. The musical program, which was perhaps the best ever rendered in Millersburg, opened with a violin solo by Miss Nell, accompanied by Miss Alma Duke Jones on the organ. This was followed by a vocal solo, "Happy Days," with violin obligato, by Mrs. C. M. Best, Miss Nell accompanied by Miss Jones. At the appointed time the bridal party entered to the soft strains of the bridal march by Lohengrin, played by Miss Jones. Entering from the right door, coming down the right aisle were the ushers, Messrs. Chas. Miller and Mack Grimes. Mrs. U. M. Swinford, dame of honor, followed by the bride, Miss Carpenter, coming from the left door were Ushers Walter Shroat and Ewell Shroat, Mr. U. M. Swinford, best man, followed by the groom. The whole formed a beautiful group about the altar where they were met by Elder G. H. Nutter, of Louisville.

After all had taken their positions the impressive solo, "O Promise Me," was rendered by Mrs. Best, accompanied by Miss Nell, which was indeed beautiful. The beautiful selection filled the vast audience with deep emotion. Just as the strains died away Elder Nutter, in soft, low modulated tones began the beautiful Episcopal ring ceremony, while Miss Jones rendered most touchingly "Hearts and Flowers."

At the close of this beautiful ceremony Mrs. Best sang the answer, "I Promise Thee." The violin obligato to the last two songs were the compositions of Miss Nell and have been much complimented by all lovers of music. Miss Nell is a violinist far above the average and her work is always good. At the close of the last song Mendelssohn wedding march was rendered by Miss Jones and the wedding party filed from the church, going to the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Carpenter, uncle of the bride, where a short informal reception was held.

The bride was gowned in white broadcloth, large white hat with willow plume, with large shower bouquet. Mrs. Swinford, Dame of honor, and sister of the bride, was beautifully attired in white serge and lace. The occasion was one that will always be remembered by those present. After a short reception at the home of Mr. Carpenter Mr. and Mrs. Shroat left in an auto for Lexington, from thence to Eastern points where they will spend several weeks.

Miss Carpenter is the second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Carpenter and is highly connected. She is a graduate of M. F. C. and a graduate under Mrs. Best in Dramatic Art and Expression. Her father is a prominent farmer and one of the wealthy men of this part of the country.

Mr. Shroat is County Clerk of Bath County and is also connected with many other enterprises in his county and city. He is a prosperous business man with a large circle of friends and acquaintances. Mr. and Mrs. Shroat will make their home at Owingsville after returning from the East.

Among the guests present were the following: Mr. and Mrs. U. M. Swinford, Mrs. Claude Ratliff, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Wilson, Carlisle; Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Shroat, Messrs. Walter and Ewell Shroat, Owingsville; Mrs. Thornton King, Minerva; Rev. G. W. Nutter, Louisville.

Mr. Phil Maher, of Paris, was the guest of Mr. Peale Collier Tuesday.

A number from here attended the sale of Mr. Harry James Wednesday.

Miss Fannie Farrier, of Milwood, Ala., arrived Tuesday as a student at M. F. C.

Miss Caila Lee McNamara left Monday for a few days visit to relatives at Paris.

Mr. Elda Collier who is confined to his home with a very sore hand is some better.

Miss Blackmon, instructor in voice at the M. F. C., was in Louisville from Saturday until Monday.

Mr. Robert Collier and family, of Mt. Sterling, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Peale Collier Sunday.

Messrs. W. E. Wilson, of Mt. Sterling, and J. H. Stewart, of Carlisle, were in town on business Monday.
